MORE BAD ERRORS ON SLACKERS' LIST

Seven Men Mentioned Served During War in Army, Navy or Guard.

ONE IN INSANE ASYLUM

Tuberculosis Killed Two. Another Was Cripple, Others Not Found.

ENSIGN WAS COMMENDED

Enlisted and Was Promoted; at One Time Commander of Bay Ridge Station.

The first instance in which men who served in the Government forces during the war were deliberately listed as slackers after investigators had been told repeatedly of their service was revealed last night at the home of former Ensign Harold Johnson Grant, United States Navy, at 652 Teasdale place, The Bronx, who was listed as a slacker by Draft Board No. 12.

Ensign Grant won his commission as a result of his knowledge of engineering. He rating in the navy was high, and finally his ability was recognized. The Navy Department placing him in charge of the Bay Ridge Training Station. Later went to sea as an officer of the United States steamship Isabella. He was released from service in October, 1920. He received at that time a commendation from the Department for meritorious work. Ensign Grant was listed yesterday in the War Department's latest slacker list.

Robert Wilmut Grant of 652 Teasdale place, Ensign Grant's brother, begged his way into the Maine State Guard, after three branches of the regular service had turned him down because of poor eyesight. A draft board in Maine refused to take him for physical disability for weeks before he succeeded in getting into the Maine State Guard.

Sister Tells of Injustice.

At the Grant home yesterday, Mrs. Frances Vernon complained bitterly over the injustice done her brothers. She said she had received ten different Government agents sent to investigate the two cases and proved to all of them that her brothers did their bit. Each of the investigators promised to have the mistakes rectified.

Investigation of other names on the list issued yesterday, covering draft boards in the Bronx, Brooklyn and Queens districts, disclosed that at least five others of the names appearing thereon were those of men who had served either in the army, navy or State Guard. Of the remainder, one was in the insane asylum at the time the draft was made, another had died from tuberculosis and one physically disabled. The others were not found.

Frank Murray, 1308 Southern Boulevard, proved to be a winner of the French Croix de Guerre for valor. His discharge showed him to be a member of the 11th Infantry, Seventy-eighth Division, having been killed in action April 1, 1918, in the Argonne forest on October 13, 1918, following action at St. Mihiel. Murray was conveyed to the base hospital at Allers, where he remained for six weeks until convalescent. The testimonial of character given on his discharge was "excellent."

Boss Served in France.

William Ross, 1936 Trinity avenue, The Bronx, was known by his landlady, Mrs. Annie Nielsen, to have served as a member of an infantry regiment in France. Mrs. Nielsen said last night that Ross left to enlist in the army. From what could be learned last night he was a member of the 107th Infantry in France and honorably discharged afterward.

Jack Edward Hyland, a veteran of the "fighting Sixty-ninth" of the Rainbow Division, who is still under treatment for wounds received in the early fighting in France and who is taking a course in vocational training, is another of the alleged slackers whose names appeared on yesterday's list. Hyland was shot in the right side of the face by a German sharpshooter in the Champagne on June 15, 1918. He was under treatment for this wound for seventeen months, part of which was spent in Fox Hills Hospital. According to his aunt he is still under treatment. His brother, Thomas E. Hyland, went through the war without injury.

In Two War Services.

Anthony Avata, Jamaica, Queens Borough, another name listed as a slacker, proved to be Dr. Anthony Avata, an ambulance surgeon of St. Mary's Hospital, Jamaica, at the beginning of the war. He enlisted in the navy and later resigned to accept a commission in the army, where he served in North Carolina during the "flu" epidemic, receiving an honorable discharge at the close of hostilities.

Henry Rathjen of 183 Chichester avenue, Jamaica, was in the insane asylum at the time of the draft registration, according to the Queens police records. These records also show that William A. Vincent, 401 Prospect street, died in April, 1918. John W. L. Griffin, 185 Pacific street, Jamaica, died a year ago, according to neighbors who knew the family. Raymond Leggett, 101 Thirtieth street, according to his parents, died of tuberculosis on March 13, 1919. Elmer Treat, 514 South street, was reported as a hopeless cripple by his parents, while Harry Raudemann, 91 Willow street, was said to be ill of tuberculosis at the time of the draft.

HELD FOR LURING GIRL.

Man Faces Kidnapping Charge Involving 14-Year-Old Child.

George Ingram, 30, a porter, of 1383 Third avenue, was locked up last night in E. East Twenty-second street police station on a charge of kidnapping in connection with the disappearance of a fourteen-year-old school girl, who later, it was alleged, was found in a furnished room at 351 East Twenty-second street. The complaint against Ingram was made by George Todero of 512 East Seventieth street.

Todero, according to the police, said Ingram lured his sister, Mary Todero, from school and held her prisoner for three days. Ingram was arrested when he called at 351 East Twenty-second street for the girl's school books, which were left there Friday.

WAR VETERANS MUST PROVE RESIDENCE TO GET BONUS

Required to Show They Have Been Residents of State for Last Five Years With Exception of Time Spent in Service.

Special Despatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.
New York Herald Bureau.
Albany, May 16.

Before the world war veterans can receive the State bonus authorized last year they must have proof that they were residents of the State at the time they entered service and that they have been residents of the State since the time of their discharge.

Under the ruling issued to-day by Adjutant-General Kincaid former service men must submit proof, sworn to by local officials, that they are and have been residents of New York for the last five years with the exception of the time spent in service.

This does not mean that service men who have left the State since they were discharged their uniforms will not receive the award the State has granted the fighters. They must prove, however, that they at no time during the five year period established a legal residence in any other State. In cases where former service men have voted in other States or where they have established permanent homes, such action shall be deemed presumptive evidence that they are no longer residents of this State.

In respect to the clause stipulating that a bonus applicant must have been a resident of the State at the time he entered the service, the rule prescribes that persons who were temporarily out of the State at the time they entered service shall be eligible. Proof of residence in these cases is the same as that required of men who have left the State since their going out of service. Men still in military or naval service and stationed outside the State qualify automatically for the bonus provided they were in service two months or more between April 6, 1917, and November 11, 1918.

FINED FOR WALKING ON CENTRAL PARK GRASS

Columbia Professor Pays $1 for Dog Without Muzzle.

More than 150 cases of violation of park ordinances in Central Park came before Magistrate Corrigan in West Side court yesterday as a result of summonses served by park patrolmen. Most of the delinquents were charged with walking on grass, scattering paper or rubbish or strolling with unmuzzled dogs. In most instances small fines were imposed.

Prof. Charles Lefel of Columbia University, who was summoned to court by Patrolman Crist, paid $1 because his dog was without a muzzle. The officer issued a summons on the same charge to Mrs. Charlotte Ibanes of 38 West 100th street. Her husband, Arisco Ibanes, an importer of 6 Church street, appeared and paid $1 for her. Prof. Lefel told the court he wished to compliment Patrolman Crist on his "gentlemanly manner" in serving the summons.

GIRL CONFESSES UNDER INFLUENCE OF ETHER

Tells of Wild Ride Over Meadows in Automobile.

Under the influence of ether in St. Mary's Hospital, Passaic, Nellie Mason, brought in dazed and hysterical from a lonely spot on the outskirts of Clifton, gave a complete account of a wild ride she had taken over the Jersey meadows with two young men.

On Sunday night, she told Dr. E. C. Whalen she was thrown out of an automobile after struggling with one of the men. Before they drove away, she told the police, she took the number of the license as 90989 N. J. The record shows that number belongs to John J. Cavanaugh, a member of the Passaic police force. Patrolman Cavanaugh was absent on business yesterday. He will be questioned when he goes on duty at 4 o'clock this morning.

TWO ACTORS FINED IN COURT.

Harold McGrath, Publisher, Found Guilty of Speeding.

Craigton Hale of Great Neck, L. I., an actor, was fined $2 by Magistrate McGeehan in the Traffic Court yesterday for having the driver of his automobile open on Riverside Drive Joseph Frisco, another actor, who gave his address as the Hotel Astor, was fined $15 for speeding on Riverside Drive between 125th and 128th streets.

A similar fine was paid by Harold McGrath, a publisher of 278 Riverside Drive, found guilty of speeding on Lenox avenue from 120th to 123rd street. Erno Rappe, leader of the orchestra at the Capitol Theatre, who lives at 546 West 147th street, paid $25 for speeding his car on 107th street.

ARREST ALLEGED EMBEZZLER.

Henry C. Rolphs of 417 Sixteenth street, Brooklyn, one of the three men indicted last week by the Federal Grand Jury on a charge of embezzling money from the Chatham and Phoenix National Bank, was arrested yesterday by United States Marshal James F. Power of the Federal district of Brooklyn. Rolphs was arraigned before Judge Chaitfield in Brooklyn and ordered turned over to United States Marshal Thomas D. McCarthy of the Southern district of New York.

MRS. LOFT INSTALLED AS DEPUTY OF POLICE

Pledges Her Best Efforts for Boys and Girls.

Mrs. George W. Loft, wife of the candy manufacturer, was installed yesterday afternoon as Deputy Police Commissioner to succeed Mrs. Ellen O'Grady, who resigned recently because she could not get along with Commissioner Richard E. Enright. The ceremony took place in the women's precinct, 434 West Thirty-seventh street, and was presided over by Mrs. Mary E. Hamilton, director of the precinct. A large number of women adherents of Mayor Hylan's administration, including Mrs. Hylan and Mrs. William Randolph Hearst, were present, and the precinct quarters were all but submerged with flowers. The Police Glee Club and the Police Orchestra furnished music. After the ceremonies Mrs. Loft made the following speech and went to work:

"I do not know anything about the work here yet, but I promise to do all I can for the boys and girls of New York."

LARCENY ARREST BARES LITERATURE OF REDS

Prisoner Long Wanted by City Police.

Michael Altshuler, 21, of 2117 Clinton avenue, The Bronx, was arrested last night by Detective Wilson of the Bathgate avenue station on a charge of grand larceny. The complainant in the case is William S. Anderson, member of the Underwood Typewriting Company, who charges Altshuler with stealing three typewriters from the company and disposing of them. The police have been looking for Altshuler for several months.

When Detective Wilson raided the room of Altshuler he found a trunk filled with Red literature and a number of letters written by Linn A. Gale, prominent Communist, who fled from this country into Mexico several years ago and was recently returned. So important was the arrest considered that Sergeant Gagan of the bomb squad was notified and will question the prisoner.

WEHNER CONVICTED IN HOTEL ASTOR ROBBERY

Was One of Three Men Who Held Up Four Guests.

A jury in General Sessions yesterday found Carl M. Wehner, one of three men who held up four persons on the second floor of the Hotel Astor on December 15, guilty of burglary. He will be sentenced Friday by Judge Charles C. Nott.

The attempted burglary in which Wehner participated was one of the most daring of the "crime wave." Wehner was captured through the presence of mind of Mrs. Owen C. Linthwaite, who, when confronted by the intruders, missed the glass of a window of the guest room and attracted the attention of a policeman in Broadway.

Lawrence Hawthorne, another member of the band, was sentenced recently to from thirty to sixty years in Sing Sing.

STATE GETS BEST OF CITY.

Comptroller Charles L. Craig yesterday received a check for $11,928,923.88 in payment of State's share for teachers' salaries for the fiscal year ending June 30. At the same time he sent to the State a check for $15,028,190 in payment of State taxes for the same period.

LEAD OUT OF BRAIN, CONVICT IS NORMAL

Physicians at Sing Sing Say Removal of Bullet Cured Leondowski.

TALK NOW RATIONAL

Has a Little Joke About the Edison Test When Questioned.

FACES OFFICIAL ORDEAL

Has Sixteen Years More to Serve for Manslaughter—Claims Self-Defence.

Roman Leondowski, the convict who carried a bullet in his brain for four years and suffered fits of mental depression and epilepsy in consequence, has recovered normal mentality since the operation in which the misshapen bit of metal was removed, it was made known yesterday at Sing Sing prison. Dr. Amos O. Squire, prison physician and psychiatrist, and Dr. Abraham Kossel, his assistant, said last night that Leondowski has appeared under observation to have recovered. Their announcement was not made officially because the convict has not been examined for the State.

Leondowski left Sing Sing yesterday afternoon in company with two keepers for the Dannemora State Hospital for the Insane. There he is to be examined and questioned along lines that will bring out his ability to think as a normal man. When that is completed he will be returned to Clinton Prison to complete a sentence that may run for only sixteen years more or possibly life. He was convicted of manslaughter in 1917 following a gun fight in which he nearly lost his life. The bullet removed by the surgeons lodged in his brain at that time. A second bullet embedded, a few inches away, was not removed because it was regarded as harmless.

Leondowski appeared alert mentally and in almost perfect physical health as he waited with the keepers for the train yesterday. He answered questions readily and commented on his own case. He joked about Thomas A. Edison's questionaire, discussed Chauncey M. Deyew and Paderewski, and, singing his own few pennies, grinned and quickly cried, "A twenty dollar gold piece!" when a coin of that denomination was shown him.

"Paderewski is a good musician but a poor politician," Leondowski observed. "I heard him play once in Utica. I paid two dollars to get in. I don't know why I did because I don't understand music anyway."

"Have you ever heard of Chauncey M. Deyew?" he was asked.

"Sure," was the answer. "He's the gentleman who used to tell funny stories."

And then Leondowski expressed his appreciation of the attention given his case by Dr. William L. Chapman, Jr., of Brooklyn, who performed the operation. Though himself paralyzed, Dr. Chapman had attendants lift him to a high stool and trephined the convict's skull. He praised also the kindness shown him by Warden Lawes and other Sing Sing officials. Then the questioning by reporters was resumed.

"Can you tell which was made first—the hen or the egg?" one of them asked.

Leondowski pondered. "That's hard telling," he said. "Is that one of Mr. Edison's questions?" The idea made him laugh.

"You've heard of Mr. Edison?" he was asked.

"Yes; I worked for an electrical concern before I got into this trouble and anybody who works around an electrical plant hears about him."

Leondowski next posed for newspaper and motion picture photographers and then gave out a statement written by himself. It reviewed his life history from his boyhood days in Milwaukee, Poland, and described the trouble that led up to his shooting Frank Levenchick in Schenectady back in 1917.

"He is in much better shape physically," Dr. Squire said yesterday. "And he's the most grateful inmate I ever treated."

The operation was performed seven weeks ago.
